

Psychological Testing

Psychological Testing is now available for all kinds of conditions. Reports provided are suitable for court, benefits, work, or school. Testing is available for ADD/ADHD, PTSD, Bipolar Disorder, Autism, Dyslexia, and much more—testing and analysis for workplace management to assist with human resources, hiring, team building, or personnel improvement (provides excellent documentation). Most insurance covers the sessions just like it does with a regular counseling session. There is a slight additional at-cost charge for each test and analysis. For more information, contact
